

Careers in Cybersecurity

"This new volume in the publisher's "Careers" series includes entries for 28 jobs one would expect to find in the cybersecurity field, such as "Network and Computer Systems Administrator," "Software Developer/Quality Assurance Analyst/Tester," "Computer Support Specialist," and "Information Security Analyst," to name a few."

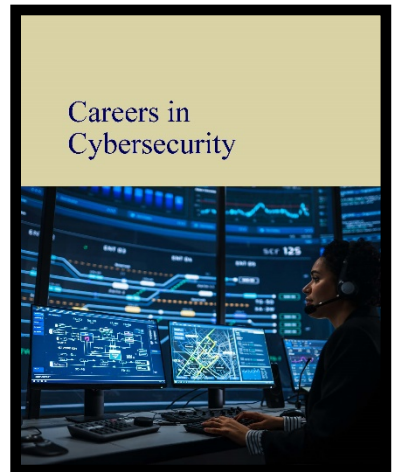

"Each entry describes the requisite skills and education needed to be successful..."

"Each entry also provides information on where to obtain additional information regarding the given career."

"...this is a good reference source for requisite skill sets and expectations for such careers."
